POLARIS

FREEPORT HIGH SCHOOL
FREEPORT, ILLINOIS

THE 1950
POLARIS

HIGH SCHOOL

Puzzles are fun to do. The pieces may seem hopelessly jumbled at first, and it takes real concentration to fit the parts together within the border, but seeing a vivid picture completed is the reward for your efforts.

Working a puzzle is like combining the parts that make up Freeport High School.

*Our campus determines the border of the puzzle
. . . school life*

THE
PIECE

A freshman enters F.H.S. and in a few weeks he is familiar with the campus and buildings of the school . . . he has put together a border. Then he examines and experiments with the most important inside pieces . . . the people.

PIECE

The puzzle grows rapidly, interests and antics put growth of mature persons as we add the key piece . . . the students. Their color and variety into the picture, and portray the ities . . .

A second-year man sees his way through the maze and begins to show more lively interest in clubs and activities. He fits the most appealing activities pieces into his own puzzle. A junior realizes that study links the assembled sections, so he divides his energy between class work and extra-curricular projects.

FITS

Sports highlight each person's picture with excitement. Team competition and the vigorous spirit of the crowd supply zest and color, which accent F.H.S.'s familiar routine.

*the buzz of the clock . . . the ball in the air . . .
the stomping feet . . . "We gotta win!"*

A student has almost finished this puzzle when he enters the fourth year of high school. Filling in the remaining few pieces . . . required subjects, needed credits, and special courses . . . is a pleasure to the senior. He drops them in place, feeling satisfied with the completed picture of his career at Freeport High. But even as he finishes this puzzle, he is aware of the place it fills in the larger puzzle of life itself.

An orange, irregular, blob-like shape with several rounded protrusions and indentations, resembling a splash or a piece of organic matter. It is positioned on the left side of the page.

PIECE

The most important pieces that fit in the heart of our puzzle are the . . .

Bits o' the puzzle

We led a comfortable life at F.H.S., as these specimen lockers reveal. Our "homes away from home" were pleasantly personal, with that carefree look that characterized all we did . . .

Boys who took in the late movie can recall that embarrassing day-after when the dull monotone of class recitation made them sleepier . . . and sleepier . . . and zz z z z.

Sometimes, though, we did have a few moments of worry. Many a girl can say with true feeling, "Oh, I'll never forget that time in cooking when"

We bumped into many difficulties as . . .

Missing Pieces

Remember how we answered any summons from the office with quaking knees and an unquiet mind? Was it . . . ? But how did they find out . . . ?

And then there were the times when we collaborated to put the finishing touches on last night's homework . . .

Whether you're playing on the varsity or on your own, there will often be that bad "first half," when only sweat and tears will pull you through.

Masque and Wig

In greasepaint and out, the dramatics club and their adviser, Miss Jeanette Lloyd, had a busy year.

With make-up and plenty of acting ability, Masque and Wig members presented the Carnival play and performed in "paper bag" dramatics, charades, and a semi-original radio skit.

Sans greasepaint, Masque and Wig-ers listened to a talk on radio by a W.F.J.S. staff

Thespians

"Act well your part; there all the honor lies." So goes the motto of the National Thespian Society, whose purpose is to advance the standards of excellence in dramatic arts.

Just to show what side their make-up's on, several enterprising members graced the mike at W.F.J.S. with the classic, "Doctor in Spite of Himself."

The traditional actor starves in the garret, but not F.H.S. Thespians! For, in the spring, the disciples of Thespis stuffed, not with food for thought, but with baked ham at the Thespians' annual initiation and banquet. Miss Jeanette Lloyd is their sponsor.

The audience went along with the Yankee on an amusing adventure into the days of knight-errantry. Hank, the Yankee, accidentally got an electric shock and found himself a prisoner of Sir Sagamore, who led him before the court of King Arthur. He was condemned to death, but finding an eclipse listed in his almanac for the date of his planned execution, he staged a "miracle" and blacked out the sun.

After becoming buddies with "Art," Hank set out to make the regime more efficient. He controlled the castle through a switchboard, while pages rode about on motor scooters. Merlin, a politician of the old school, objected to the "new deal" and tried to take the government by force. However, "Sir Boss," the Yankee, came to King Art's rescue in the nick of time by helicopter. Then Hank regained consciousness, and we were back in the twentieth century.

The stage and costume committees deserve praise for giving the play a touch of medieval splendor. A special blue ribbon to Miss Jeanette Lloyd, who directed the production, generally acclaimed as one of Freeport's finest.

Debate

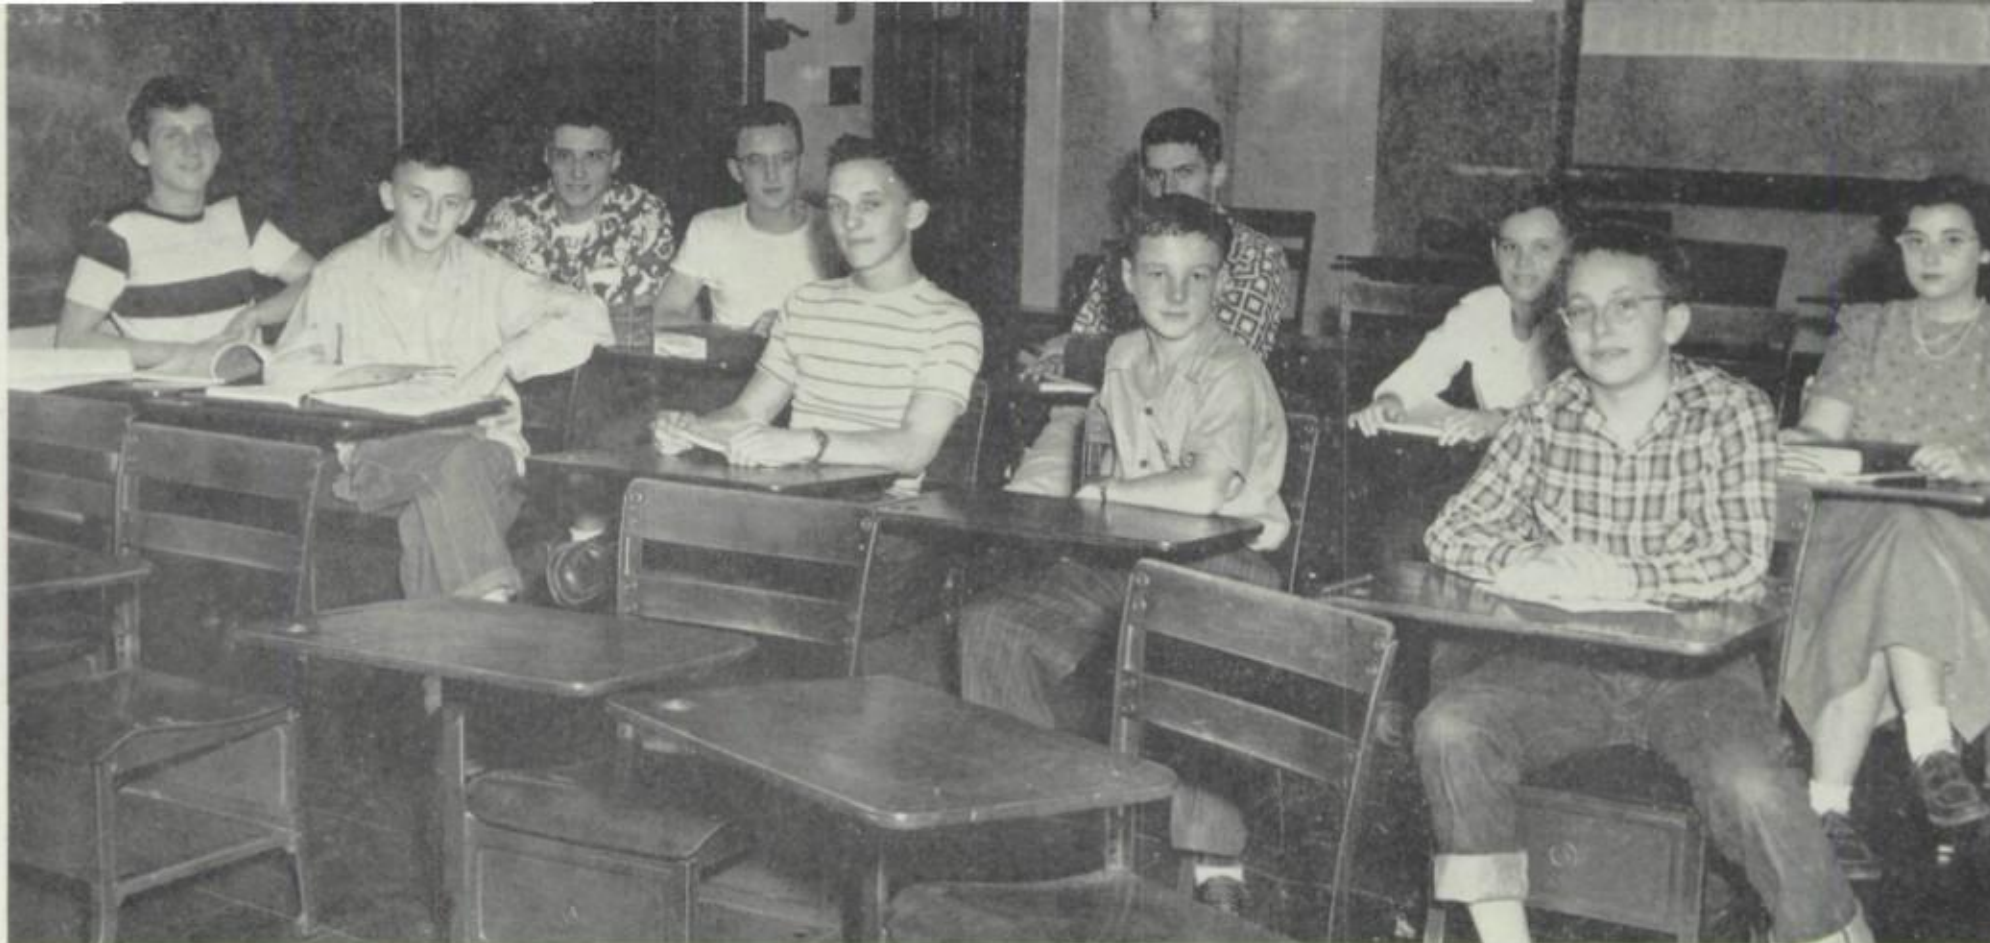

Sweeping both the debate and individual speaking divisions at the '49 Big Eight Speech Meet, Freeport's debate squad, under Ralph Enstrom's direction, rolled again in '50 to cop the conference championship at East Aurora.

With six veteran shouters in the line-up, the team tied for first at Lake Forest College with a record of four wins, two losses. At Illinois Normal University, fourteen of sixteen decisions were ours for first place. In the Rockford tourney and Janesville triangular, we were again victorious.

The proposition was, "Resolved: that the President of the United States be elected by direct vote of the people."

Frosh-soph debate

This fall saw the creation of an eleven man frosh-soph debate class. During the year they participated in the annual triangular non-decision debate at Rockford, and in several freshman tournaments.

In the January state N.F.L. report, F.H.S. ranked third with a total number of forty-seven degrees awarded. This number included six degrees of distinction, the highest award of the N.F.L.

French Club members and their adviser, Miss Mary Luebbing, have an unwritten motto: "Fun, Food, and French." The fun began for both old and frightened new members at the annual initiation picnic.

Food, as well as fun, was the objective at the kitchen session, when the group made French pralines. For the recipe, contact Monsieur Pierre!

Another interesting program consisted of a talk and slides presented by Marge Haas, who traveled and worked in Europe.

F. H. S. Spaniards are likely to find themselves engaged in a variety of activities. Proof? Last fall, with Miss Dorothea Schmidt as adviser, the group hiked to a woods south of town for a gay gypsy party and treasure hunt.

At later meetings they put on a quiz with questions asked in Spanish, and acted out several skits with Spanish dialogue.

The prize for extra effort is small, but welcome . . . an extra helping of refreshments.

The Latin Club welcomed its new members in the fall with a rugged initiation of chariot racing, gladiator fights, and part-time slave labor under the upperclass Romans.

Monthly programs, guided by Miss Mabel Bowers, included colored slides of Europe, a zodiac quiz, and games with a Latin twist. The annual spring banquet added a tasty climax to the year's activities.

Secretaries-in-the-making, with Miss Frances Ritzinger as adviser, got together for meetings with a business-like atmosphere.

Programs included reading shorthand stories from the "Gregg Writer," a quiz on business etiquette—"What do you do when the boss's wife berates him for not giving her money?"—and a trip through Furst, McNess and Company. Parties came in December and February, and a picnic ended a pleasant year.

Homecoming

The fans agreed that the '49 Homecoming, engineered by Student Council with John Parson and Sue Churchill as chairmen, was bigger and better than previous celebrations.

A large crowd of spectators lined the streets, waiting anxiously for the unusually long parade of clever floats. Shirley Hill was elected Homecoming queen by the varsity squad and the coaching staff. Her attendants were: Joanne Mead, senior; Molly Kasten, junior;

Fluid drive

Margie Jeffrey, sophomore; and Connie Myers, freshman. During the pep rally on the courthouse steps, Hack Wilson, acting football captain, crowned the winsome queen, much to the envy of his team mates.

There were so many floats, each designed to carry out some novel idea, that it was a difficult task for the three judges to decide which should receive the awards. Miss Dagmar Hansen's homeroom float won first prize with the theme "Hold That Line." Two girls, tugging frantically, were fastening another girl in an old-fashioned corset. The Home Ec Club won second prize with "Fishing for Victory." Third prize went to G.A.A. with their bathing beauties "Knocking Out Joliet."

The cheer leaders and band led the crowd in spirited yells. Joe Abate, former F.H.S. athlete, made the keynote address. Enthusiastic Homecoming revelers turned out en masse on game night to watch the Pretzels hold the Steelmen to a hard-fought tie, 6-3.

Down from the tower came the thump of the bass, the blare of the trumpets, and the soothing melody of the clarinets; the Kampus Kats were hard at their noon rehearsal of the Borodin Symphony or "Woodchoppers' Ball."

These Kats are versatile. In September the band was out on the football field limbering its marching legs for maneuvers and practicing spirited march tunes. Basketball season found the instrumentalists tooting another kind of tune . . . jazz. Cold, wet, or snow didn't keep them from enlivening downtown pep rallies in the fall and spring.

In December the group gave its traditional concert for the students and faculty; in March they presented the annual band concert at the Consistory Auditorium.

Finally, the spring trip came. In past years our band entered the state contest, in which they won a first rating for three years in a row. This year they participated in a tri-city music festival at Dubuque with Clinton and Dubuque, Iowa. Combined organizations from the three cities presented a large-scale concert as a climax to the three-day affair.

When the dust had settled from the last whip crack in "Sleigh Ride," the F.H.S. orchestra emerged to take their bows at the annual Christmas concert at the Consistory Auditorium.

Again this spring they fiddled at the May Festival, playing music in a lighter mood. A more informal concert was the before-Christmas assembly at which students sang carols accompanied by the orchestra. Howard Weber — now a full-fledged member of the Whipcrackers' Union—performed as guest artist on the whips.

Long hours of sectional and full rehearsals go into the preparation of these concerts—rehearsals from the first day of school to the last.

But busy as they are, orchestra members find time for extra projects; they have formed several small groups — trios, quartettes, and other ensembles—which often play at churches and adult meetings around town. A woodwind quintet is almost traditional at F.H.S. From the ranks of this organization also come the theatre orchestras which play appropriate music at our junior and senior plays.

Camerata Club

Camerata Club is a lively group of musicians noted for its initiations and study programs. During meetings, the students illustrated different phases of music with their own or outside talent. Ernest Seeman, club adviser, demonstrated bow re-hairing.

The accompanists should strike for shorter hours. After spending eons on the junior high operetta, Christmas concerts, May Festival, and contests, they are completely "woofed."

A Cappella

In the midst of the dude-ranch splendor of the Southwest, the choir found themselves singing "Meet Arizona" in a melodramatic mystery concerning a missing will. The Green Mountain boys' song and the ditty about the mule were among the favorite songs from this wild and wooly musical comedy, presented by the A Cappella in March of '49.

The proceeds of this financially successful production were used to transport the entire group to Springfield in May for the state music contest, in which the group received a rating of second.

The A Cappella's first big engagement this year was their Christmas concert, presented jointly with the orchestra at the Consistory Auditorium. The final thrilling number, "Rex Glorise," sung here for the first time, climaxed a fine program of holiday music.

The singers laid aside their black robes in the spring to appear in colorful formal attire at the annual May Festival. Melodies in a light mood with the "Spirit of Music" by Bennett, as the finale, highlighted the performance.

Later, the choir went to Dubuque for a two-day music festival with the high schools of that city and Clinton, Iowa. There they sang the most difficult pieces of the double program of music which they had been preparing since late winter for the May Festival and this affair. The intricate rhythm of the music of the Dubuque gathering was a challenge to these singers' ability, but they gave a commendable performance.

This festival offered for the first time an opportunity for the A Cappella to perform with fine singers from two other schools; it also gave them the experience of working under the well-known music educator David Foltz, of the University of Nebraska, receiving his criticism and commendations, and learning his interpretation.

"South Pacific"

The north wind is howling, and snowdrops are falling on Freeport, Illinois. But wait, don't shiver and pack your bags for Miami Beach just yet. Romantic tropical isles, complete with adventure and gaiety are awaiting you in the high school gymnasium. Twenty-five cents is your ticket and passport for the South Pacific.

We reached the balmy South Pacific islands on February 13th. The natives—of Freeport—were in the midst of their annual carnival season.

As we wandered down among the sheltering palms, numerous activities claimed our interest and attention. One of the first incidents of note was the baby show. The cutest young juveniles of the tribe competed for prizes and fame. Then older members of the clan had a fashion review, exhibiting the latest styles à la Freeport, South Pacific.

The lavish finery of these teen-agers took our breath away, so we stopped to refresh ourselves. The natives' favorite beverage boasted the exotic name of Coca Cola. Candies, cookies, and other such items continued to drain our supply of travelers' checks.

Some Freeporters were engaged in various games of chance, involving the use of rings and balls. Our luck being none too good, we strolled over to the fish-pond, a kind of glorified grab-bag.

A glamorous goddess, Ann Bihl, reigned as the Queen of Beauty. Joanne Mead and her consort, Bob Pashley, were crowned, in the name of all their subjects, as King and Queen of the carnival.

While the orchestra played haunting melodies, we left the good inhabitants of Freeport dancing the romantic hours away. So we said aloha to South Pacific, the Freeport High School Carnival of 1950.

Mrs. Harry Andersen captained the crew which made the trip to "South Pacific."

Cafeteria

The hands of the clock point to 11:48 a. m. Zero hour! Every eye is alert, everybody tense! The bell rings. A small murmur grows into a rumble, then a roar of excitement, of pleasure! It's lunch time at Freeport High School.

An army of famished students invade the cafeteria. Books slammed down on one of the tables reserve your favorite seat . . . you hope. Eager eyes scan the menu. Hungry mouths begin to water. Time's a-wasting! Grab a tray and join the lunch brigade. Don't squeeze that half-dollar so tightly.

You could buy just the plate dinner, of course, but who wants to when there's gingerbread or chocolate pudding or pumpkin pie for dessert? Piles of food disappear as if by magic. If you're one of the late diners (the sixth hour crowd), you needn't worry. There's always enough for all.

The planning and serving of these delicious meals is the task of Miss Genevieve Sheridan, our cafeteria director, and her staff. Miss Sheridan is new to Freeport High this year, but she has already discovered the way to our hearts, and, incidentally, our stomachs.

For the best meal in town, shuffle over to the cafeteria. Open for business every weekday noon.

Now I'll tell one!

Some just like to hear the bell ring

Home Ec Club

For Home Ec Club members and girls of the advanced foods classes, the busiest season of the year was Christmas time.

This year the annual faculty-women's tea was held December 7, the mother-daughter tea, December 9. For both functions, the girls drew on skills they learned in class and adorned the table with the traditional circular cookie tree, filled with delicious homemade cookies. The new silver service, purchased with the profits of last year's cookies and fruit cake sales, was also displayed. As an outside project, the girls made Christmas cookies for the County Home.

Another meeting was devoted to a discussion of possible vocations in home economics, led by Miss Lillian Matthiesen, adviser. Several outside speakers came also, including Miss Dorothy Koelling of the Y.W.C.A., who told of her summer experience in Europe.

The March meeting was a style show at Read's; models were Virginia Keister, Pat Smith, Margaret Woodward, and Betty Worth.

Junior Red Cross representatives, elected by homerooms, spearheaded the fund-raising campaign, under the supervision of Mrs. R. J. Carnahan.

The council asked the students of F.H.S. to give whatever they could afford, and give they did . . . to the tune of ninety-eight dollars. This money went to the National Children's Fund.

Funnel and Flask

This group of future "finders" assembled with Murry Funk each month for a meeting of the science club. The year's project was geology. Each member studied one phase of the earth's composition and reported to the club on his findings.

Funnel and Flask is registered with the Science Clubs of Amercia.

P. A. System

This year, assembly audiences had no trouble hearing speakers, thanks to new audio units beneath the gym roof. Richard Falley, faculty supervisor, issued a schedule which the boys followed in setting up the public address system for each assembly.

Open House

The organized parents and teachers of F.H.S. hold their meetings in the high school cafeteria on the second Tuesday of each month.

In planning programs, the committee aimed at finding discussion topics that met this year's theme, "Meeting Youth at the Cross-roads."

In the fall, Tom Hirtle showed movies he took while traveling in Europe last summer. Then in November Mom and Pop met the brain-makers at Open House, sponsored by this group.

Classes co-operated by setting up informative displays so that parents got a view of their youngsters' work in school.

Students will never forget Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liddle, youth guidance counselors from Indianapolis, brought here for two days by the P.T.A. At the February meeting, there was a panel of school and police representatives, discussing the topic, "What Parents Don't Know Can Hurt Them."

As they do every spring, in March the P.T.A. sponsored their annual card party and style show to raise money for their treasury.

The officers for this year were: Mrs. Robert P. Eckert, president; Mrs. Darlene K. Besley, vice-president; Mrs. W. T. Bingham, secretary; Hilding Bihl, treasurer.

Student Council

After hearing about the 1949 spring conference in Chicago, the members of this year's Student Council, with Richard Lumby as adviser, decided that the F.H.S. council should become a more effective organization.

They started with Homecoming in October, complete with queen, parade, and pep rally, with Sue Churchill and John Parson acting as co-chairmen. Combining efforts with the Lettermen's Club, they made a large sportsmanship sign and hung it high on the west wall of the gym as a reminder to the basketball fans.

At Christmas time the council carried out two projects: first, they purchased durable ornaments and decorated a beautiful Christmas tree, placing it in the front hall of the school; and second, on December 27, they sponsored the "Frozen Fantasy," a semi-formal dance.

Spring brought Sponge Week, when, for a week, F.H.S. girls were granted social suffrage, by act of Student Council. "Women here are quite unsociable," stated Pouive and associates.

Cheerleaders

"F-R-E-E-P-O-R-T Freeport!" came the resounding cheers of the F.H.S. cheerleaders as they drew pep and enthusiasm from the sports crowds. Whether in the stadium or on the basketball court, clever new cheers like "Team's in a Huddle" and lively cartwheel routines were the result of hard work at regular practice sessions under the supervision of Miss Lucile Poynter.

These pepsters sported new blouse-and-skirt uniforms for midwinter cheering in the gym.

Jerc Board

Tuesday, Friday, or Saturday evenings found many a student (plus membership) sauntering down to the Jerc for a few hours of fun. Members of the Jerc Board met him at the door to check his ticket.

For special occasions the conscientious board members got to work, trimming the ballroom with crepe paper and painting the mirrors. The Flunkers' Frolic, Hard-Times Dance, Soc Hop, and Tag Day sponsored by the Jerc Board kept the Jerc "buzzing."

Lettermen's Club

Ushering at basketball and football games is one of the annual projects of the F.H.S. Lettermen's Club, under the direction of Harry Kinert.

Membership to this organization is set up on a merit-and-award basis. Boys active in the field of high school athletics and whose performance is above average receive a coveted "F" for their efforts, at the end of the season.

Many worthwhile projects were undertaken by this group of F.H.S. athletes. One example now adorns the west wall of the gym . . . a large sportsmanship sign finished in orange and black. The sign reads: "Sportsmanship pays."

Operating under a new constitution, which was conceived entirely by club members, this year's group was especially active. Lettermen's Club forms the link between the Student Council and the athletic interests of the students.

The letter-winners sponsored splash parties, hay-rides, and school dances throughout the year. During the Christmas season they supplied an entire Christmas dinner for a needy Freeport family.

G. A. A.

"Ouch! Who kicked me in the shins?" "How could you feel that with those thick padded leggings on your legs?"

Those leggings were part of the new field hockey equipment. Hockey is really an interesting, rough, wide-awake (anyway, you'd better be awake) game, and the G.A.A. girls can really play it.

During the winter, G.A.A.'ers bowled at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday. Spring and fall they swam at the "Y"; also on Wednesday and sometimes more frequently during the year they either attended a playday or had one of their own. Miss Lucile Poynter is their adviser.

They had parties every month, such as the Christmas party, ice skating, roller skating, and slumber parties, the mother-daughter banquet, and their initiation fête.

Each year two girls are sent to the G.A.A. camp at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, for a week with expenses paid by the club.

So-Hi

The So-Hi Club is the sophomore girls' "Y" group. This ambitious bunch sponsored interesting programs of their own choice.

Strictly for fun, they had a hayride; then they sponsored dances at F.H.S. to make money. During National Fellowship Week, their group managed a radio program. Packages were sent to CARE for a service project.

This lively YWCA group joined in on the "Hanging of the Greens," and they entertained all the Y-teens and their mothers at tea. For a service project, they sent a Christmas basket to the County Home.

The girls heard talks on grooming and had a discussion with several boys on dating. Miss Dorothy Koelling told them about her summer trip to Europe.

Tri-Y

"The meeting will now come to order." In this way, every other week on Tuesday night, the junior and senior girls of the Tri-Y club meet for interesting programs, some of which give them the inside dope on make-up, hair-styling, and posture. Since many of the girls were seniors this year, a talk about college was very helpful.

Besides these informative programs, they also have their share of fun. In the fall, a hay-ride afforded them an evening of fun, and during the football and basketball seasons they sponsored dances in the cafeteria. The "Hanging of the Greens," which included the younger Y-teen clubs too, is the decoration of the Y.W.C.A. at Christmas.

However, it wasn't all play and no work for the Tri-Y gals. At Christmas, Hershey bars were sent to Europe by the combined clubs through CARE. Also, the girls contributed canned goods and bought a turkey with money from their treasury to make a Christmas basket for a needy family in Freeport.

Hi-Y

Hi-Y meetings began with a rap or two of the gavel every other Wednesday night in the club rooms of the Y.M.C.A. Members lounged informally to listen to such speakers as Bert Snow, a local lawyer, who talked on the F.B.I., and Joe Cullinane, WFJS sports announcer, who gave information about his field of interest. Dick Eckert, Hi-Y member, showed slide-pictures he took in Europe.

Then there were the "fun-nites"; Hi-Y'ers played in the "Y" gym and swam in the pool. They also sponsored a winter dance in the F.H.S. cafeteria and two splash parties at the "Y".

Delegates were sent to "Y" conferences to pick up pointers for improving the club. The club is sending two boys to camp for two weeks in the summer of '50.

Membership is limited to twenty-four boys a year. Each new candidate must be nominated, and then elected by the club either in the fall or in the spring. Near the end of this year, the seniors in the club and Harry Kinert, their adviser, plotted a grueling initiation, which took place on an overnight trip to the White Pines.

F. F. A.

Freeport High's chapter of the Future Farmers of America is only a very small part of a vast organization made up of more than 280,000 Vocational Agriculture students.

Every year our chapter enters many of the contests in Section One. This area consists of Stephenson, Ogle, Jo Daviess, and Winnebago counties. There are eighteen schools in Section One which compete against each other in contests.

These contests include grain and poultry judging, soil conservation, public speaking and parliamentary procedure. The members learn how to judge different kinds of livestock, such as pigs, beef cattle and dairy cattle.

Each year, every member carries on a supervised farming program, raising livestock and grain. This past year the members of the chapter earned a total of $10,121.49 through their labor and management activities. They raised a total of 236 head of livestock and 80 acres of grain.

The F.F.A.'ers took many field trips to all parts of the state, looking forward especially to the annual excursion to the Chicago Livestock Show, where the country's best livestock is put on exhibition and later judged. The members went to Waterloo, Iowa, to visit the National Dairy Cattle Congress. They also visited some of the large farms in the Freeport area to get first-hand information on how modern farms are operated. Each year, chapter representatives attend the state F.F.A. convention, and the club enters a written program in the national contest annually.

The development of agricultural leadership, making American farmers the best in the world, co-operation, and citizenship are the principal goals of the Future Farmers of America.

For first-degree membership in the club, which teaches all the modern and scientific methods of farming, the requirements are: enrollment in vocational agriculture, a definite plan for carrying out a supervised farm project, and familiarity with the purposes of the F.F.A. and its program of work. The prospective member also has to memorize the creed of the club and must be voted in by the members. All new F.F.A.'ers are initiated.

In addition to all of its other activities, the Freeport chapter, under the direction of Vernon Bokemeier, saw many films illustrating the latest farming methods and has presented several programs over station WFRL.

Future Teachers of America

The entire title of the F.T.A. is "The Leslie A. Holmes Future Teachers Club of America." Sponsored by the National Education Association, its main purpose is to acquaint the students with the teaching profession. Miss Ferne Kuhlemeyer advises the group.

Pamphlets and letters, informing members of the opportunities in teaching, were received from National Headquarters. Members learned more about the profession when F.H.S. teachers led an F.T.A. panel discussion meeting.

Honor Society

To be a member of National Society, of which Miss Mabel Bowers is the adviser, is the aim of almost every student in high school. Yet, only students with the best records are able to pass the qualifications set up by the national board.

Five per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the seniors are chosen on the merits of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. This choice is made first by teachers, and then a faculty council makes the final decisions.

Philos

The Philomathian Society is the literary organization of F.H.S. Its membership is restricted to seniors maintaining a B plus average in English. This year's members were initiated at the annual spring picnic in 1949.

Attorney Everett Laughlin spoke to the Philos at one meeting. At another, the varsity debaters discussed the national high school question. The students' knowledge increased as they studied classic literature, guided by Mrs. Gerald Warren, club adviser. The spring picnic was enjoyed especially by the seniors, since it was the last meeting they attended.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, national honor society for high school journalists, and a newly organized club at F.H.S., already has a number of accomplishments to its credit. In addition to publishing the F-Reporter, the members did a great deal of writing for the Reet Sheet and Polaris.

Members of the Quill and Scroll are selected on the basis of scholarship and qualifying work in journalism. The club provides an incentive for better writing by high school students.

Reet Sheet

Eager eyes scanned the Freeport Journal-Standard every Wednesday for their student publication, the "Reet Sheet." The first-rated, most popular column was the Katty Korner. Wax-works brought latest records and music news; Quiz Quotes aired student opinion. F.H.S.'ers got tips on fashions from Garbs and Garters.

The journalism class and reporters contributed news stories and features on timely subjects.

Polaris Staff

With copy deadlines suddenly looming up during November and December, seniors on the Polaris Staff hustled to finish the main sections of the book. It was a great day in early spring when the last page had been proof-read and corrected; it was the end of a task started in the spring of '49.

Noontime on May 26 saw the gym lobby crowded with students ready to receive their '50 books.

Facing Dubuque in the '49 season opener, Freeport notched a 20 to 6 victory. With the Rams leading 6 to 0, Don Fogel scored, catching a pass from Ben Dorsey, followed by a 30-yard race to pay dirt by Mel Johnson. Fritz Aldridge climaxed the Pretzel touchdown parade by going over after receiving a pass from Johnson.

After dropping a 40 to 7 decision at Moline, Freeport was edged by LaSalle-Peru 20 to 12. Dorsey aeriaded to Fogel, who dashed 65 yards for one counter, and Jerry Bender plunged the other.

When the Pretzels received the opening kick-off in the West Rockford game, they marched 80 yards to score. West came back strong to win 41 to 6.

History repeated itself with Bill Spahn catching a Dorsey pass in the end zone as Freeport drew first blood against East Aurora. Baring their claws the second half, the Tomcats rolled to a 37 to 6 triumph.

It was a ball game the first half as Freeport trailed 13 to 6. However, the East High offense started to click after the intermission and couldn't be stopped for three touchdowns to the Pretzel's none in the third and fourth quarters.

The following Friday the Pretz nipped East Rockford 7 to 6 in a driving rain that made the field a sea of mud. Behind some brilliant downfield blocking, Mel Johnson scampered 72 yards for the winning touchdown. Mel then plunged the all-important extra point.

It was a typical Freeport-East Rockford clash, hard fought all the way to the final gun. The Rabs scored late in the first half. Gerry Studebaker and Bender converged to block the conversion. The importance of that blocked kick showed up later in the game and proved to be the margin of victory.

Coach "Woody" Fulkerson and Howard Weber's protégés scrapped a highly-favored Joliet eleven to a 6-6 tie, making the homecoming a success. Jack Mellnick, Bob Adams and Dale Hart spearheaded the team's brilliant defensive line play. Johnson uncorked a 38-yard run for the tying touchdown.

Halftime ceremonies honored Freeport's mythical national prep football champions of 1924. Pat Holmes, Pretzel grid mentor of that era, along with several team members, were presented to the homecoming crowd.

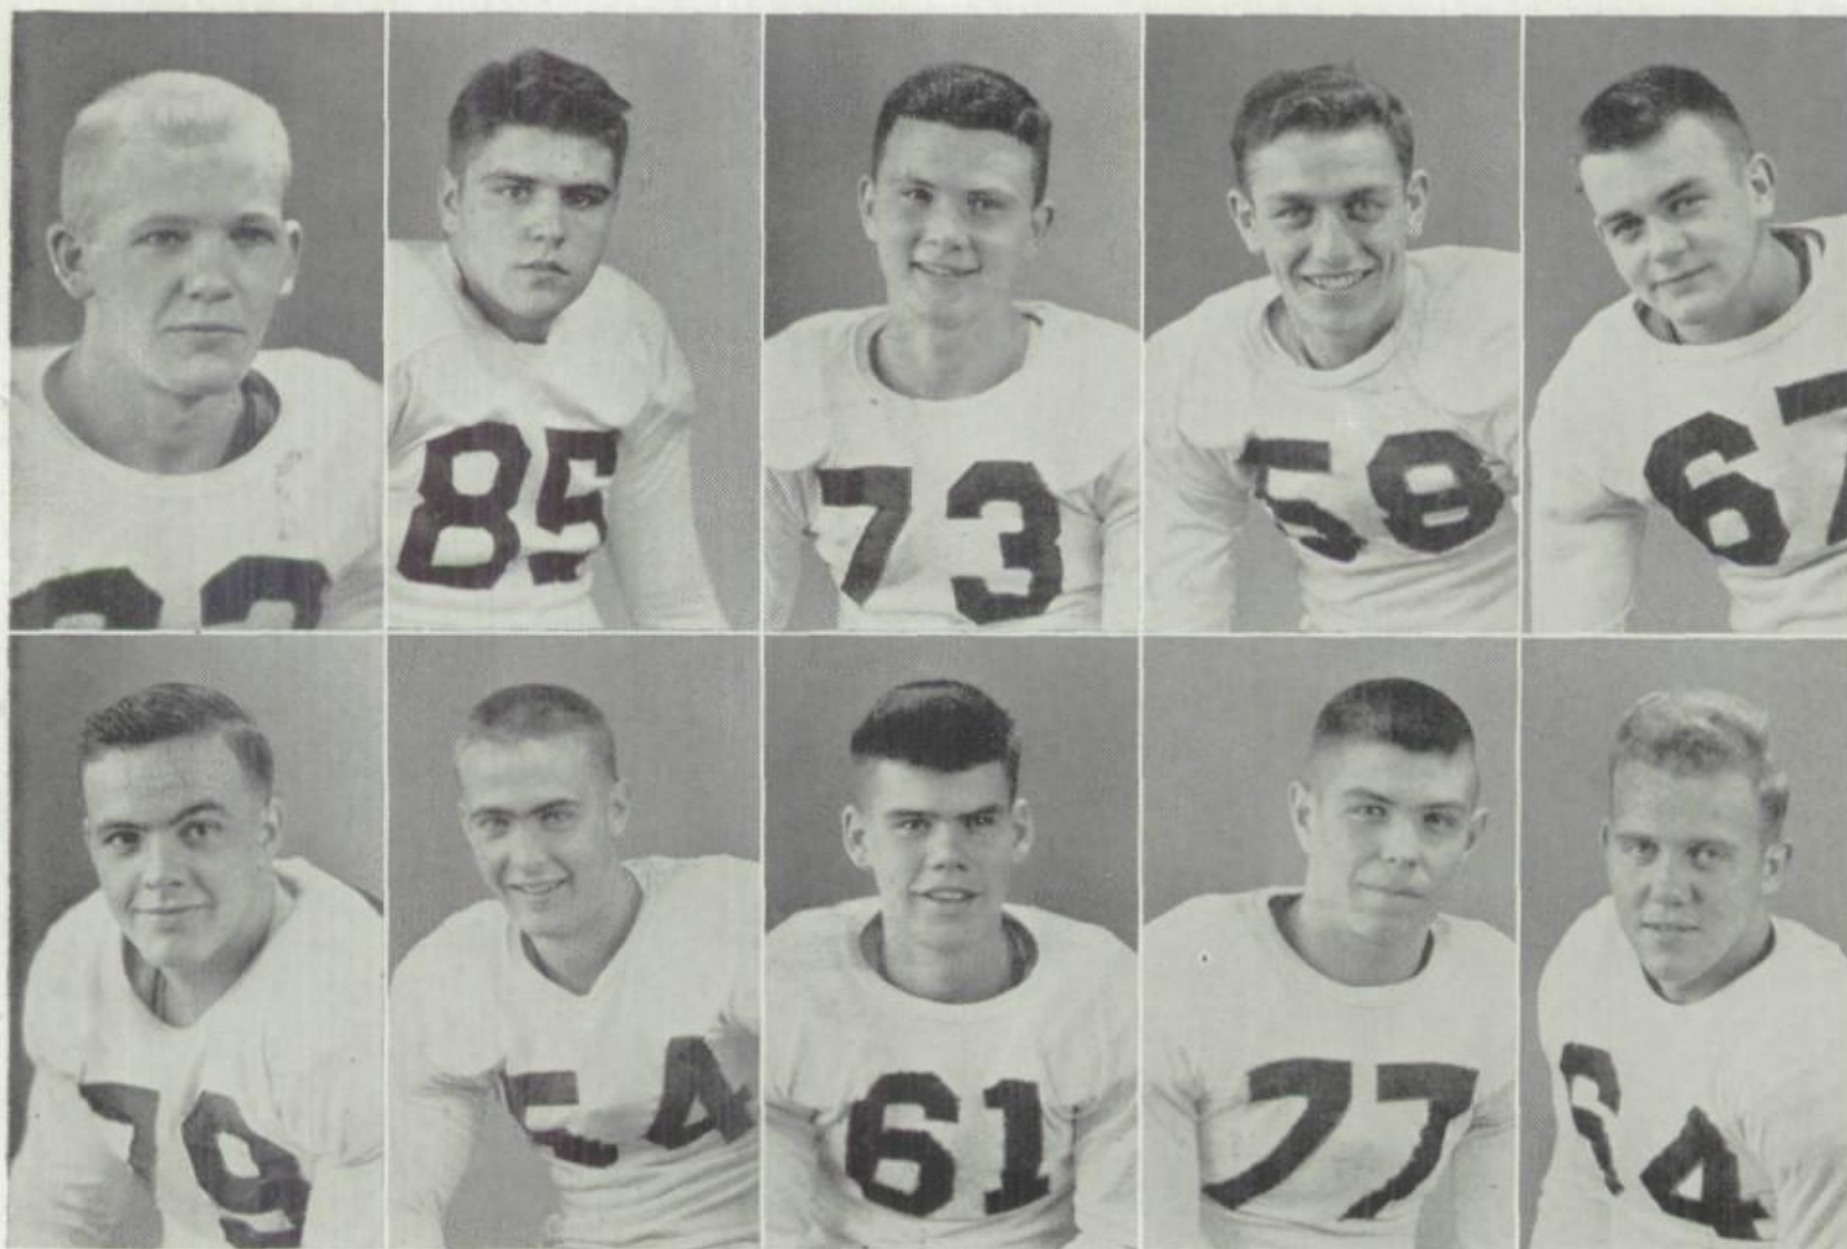

At Elgin, Freeport was topped 38 to 12. Dorsey passed to Fogel and Roland Harbach for the two scorers. Aldridge kicked a booming 76-yard punt.

It was just a case of too much Dick "Punjab" Simonson, the Maroons' 6-6, 250 pound all-state fullback, who powered his way for three touchdowns.

Ottawa, out-gamed in statistics, had the best scoreboard total as they won 13 to 6.

The Pretzel forward wall held Pirate backs to 32 yards rushing, only to have their efforts ruined by faulty pass defense that accounted for both Ottawa touchdowns.

The season's wind-up saw West Aurora, conference champion, take a 37 to 14 decision. Tom Williams ran 77 yards for one touchdown, while Bender tossed to Aldridge for the second tally. DeWayne Harbach, sidelined most of the season by an ankle injury, turned in great defensive play.

Senior lettermen included: Aldridge, Fogel, Mellnick, Arnold Gassman, DeWayne Harbach, Tom Hirtle, Martin Kasten, Dick Meile, Dick Shouer, Bob Willhite and "Hack" Wilson.

Freeport's 1949 grid squad was unique in that it scored against every opponent. Our won-lost record might have been a bit different if the team had enjoyed the good favor of a certain fellow who was ever present throughout the season, G O K I, God of Key Injuries.

By vote of his teammates, Jerry Bender was elected captain, succeeding DeWayne Harbach and acting captain Hack Wilson. Mel Johnson was nominated most valuable player.

At the opening practice session of the '49 frosh-soph football team, Coach Joe Spudich greeted seventy-five enthusiastic underclassmen.

In the first game of the season, the Pretzel-ettes showed surprisingly good form with their initial 12-6 win over Dubuque. Lebrecht and Luedeking, Freeport's mighty mites, both looked impressive. Unquestionably outclassed by a bigger, faster Beloit team, the sophs were crushed 40-6.

On the following Friday, Freeport made the Associated Press column by virtue of their second consecutive 40-6 defeat, this time at the hands of LaSalle-Peru's Incas. The Incas later went on to win the frosh-soph conference.

The following week, after holding West Rockford's Braves scoreless during the first half, the locals bowed out to the Braves 27-0. East Aurora, capitalizing on the end sweep, handed Joe's boys their fourth defeat.

Midway in the fourth quarter Wes Luedeking plunged the lone Pretzelette score. The statistics showed room for improvement in rushing defense as the Pretzelettes gave up 339 yards.

With Thomas Williams, newly acquired tail-back, running wild, the junior Pretz defeated East Rockford's sophs for their first Big 8 victory. Against Joliet in the homecoming contest, the "Little Pretz" were out-run by a determined Joliet squad 39-12.

On the next weekend, the team ventured to Elgin where the Elgin Ponies were still waiting for their first victory. The extreme cold plus the loss of Tom Williams to the varsity ranks resulted in a 19-0 Freeport loss.

In the first Thursday game in F.H.S. grid history, the Pretzelettes came close in losing to a stubborn Ottawa team 14-6. Freeport's lone score came when Jim Lebrecht tossed a screen pass to Van Bluemel, the play netting 66 yards. This, incidentally, was the final game for Al Calderon, outstanding soph guard.

It was the closest game the Freeport under-class eleven lost all year. The Spudichmen's pass defense left little to be desired as they held the Bucs to one completed aerial.

In the final game of the year, the Pretzel-ettes were trampled by a rough and ready West Aurora team 34-6. The West Aurora clan jumped into an early lead, 20-0 in the first period.

Freeport launched a 63-yard touchdown drive in the second period. Harwood Fenner, usually playing tackle, did a good share of ground-gaining from a short punt formation.

Freeport's top scorer for the season was Wes Luedeking with 24 points. He was closely followed by Van Bluemel, who came up with 20 points.

At a post-season assembly, Coach Spudich presented letters to twenty of his football aspirants. The captain's star was awarded to Albert Calderon, who was unanimously elected to this honorary position by his team-mates after the final game of the year.

Although most of the twenty letter winners were sophomores, letters were also awarded to the following frosh: Al Stewart, who exhibited some fine football at end; Danny Sommers, who alternated at the left half position throughout most of the season; and Wes Luedeking, who played first string fullback through the entire season.

MANAGERS

Unsung heroes in any sport are the managers, who sometimes incur the wrath of both players and coach when the called-for equipment is not on hand at the right time.

Dick Gusloff guarded the water bucket for freshman-sophomore football, while John Melom and Jim Doherty took charge of the varsity.

Managers in other Freeport High sports included: Tom Altenbern, track; Bob Borneman, baseball; Gusloff and Doug Smith, varsity basketball; Jerry Studebaker, frosh-soph basketball; Bob Miller, freshman basketball.

Coach Harry Kinert, moving along to the varsity ranks with last year's unstoppable Pretzelettes, enjoyed a season envied by many an experienced varsity mentor. Throughout the season, his cagers attained a record of 18 wins and 4 losses.

The season opened with the Pretz pounding out a 65-48 victory over Byron. "Deacon" Davis sank 25 points for our cause.

Freeport's hopes for an undefeated season were shattered early. Their first defeat came at the hands of DeKalb. On the victory trail again, Kinert's Kids had a successful weekend in defeating Sterling and Kewanee.

They ran into trouble at Elgin in the form of Willard Schuldt. Although the game was tied at the end of the regular 32 minutes, Elgin came out on top in an overtime. Freeport bounced back to smother the East Rabs with Davis and Fritz furnishing the scoring punch.

The Pretz then ventured to the Pontiac Holiday Tournament, to emerge with the 1st place trophy.

Back in Big 8 competition, they continued their winning ways by bowling over East Aurora. The next night at Zion-Benton, the Pretz ran into one of the better pivot-men in the state but came out ahead—bravo Tom Williams!

On the following Friday, Freeport sent Rockford home a defeated squad—56-46, Williams hitting 21 tallies.

Against West Aurora, then rated 2nd in the state, the Pretzels rose to hold Beaver and his bunch to a minimum of points. After this victory, 43-35, Freeport shot to 2nd place in the A. P. poll.

The following night, fans saw some good ball handling by Ben Dorsey, Gene Schmidt, and Hod Fritz, who led Freeport to a victory over Belvidere.

The jinx of a Rockford floor plus an "off" night led to a Freeport defeat by the East Rab.

Against Joliet, McKinley Davis again hit his stride and put 26 counters through the hoop to lead the Freeport offensive.

Pitted against West Rockford in the "game of fouls," Freeport was ahead in personals but on the short end of the score.

Freeport concluded its regular season with 3 consecutive wins over Moline, LaSalle-Peru, and Sycamore.

Freeport copped the regional title and went on to place first at the Rockford sectional. For the first time in eight years F. H. S. was "Sweet Sixteen."

The outstanding work of McKinley "Deacon" Davis throughout the year gave him a forward position on the All Big 8 first team.

Starting practice without a single experienced player from last year's undefeated frosh-soph team, the outlook for Joe Spudich's quintet this season was dim indeed. To everyone's surprise, the Pretzelettes continued their winning ways, capping a successful season with the Belvidere Tournament championship.

After breezing over Byron in the season's opener, the Pretzelettes dropped five in a row before notching a 46 to 36 triumph at the expense of East Aurora.

Highly outclassed by a smooth Zion-Benton junior varsity club, Freeport's sophs were vanquished 42 to 24. A week of painstaking practice brought dividends for the Spudichmen as they rolled over West Rockford 31 to 22, Bob Klaus leading the attack with 12 points. Lena's district champs then downed the "Little Pretz" 51 to 42.

Bidding for an upset, the Pretzelettes extended a highly-regarded LaSalle-Peru outfit to the wire before bowing to the Incas, 40 to 38.

Never behind, Coach Spudich's fast-improving five next topped West Aurora 40 to 34. Paul Lindfors had his best night at the hoop, pouring through 15 points. Shooting a capable .391, Freeport again held the upper hand, romping over Belvidere 52 to 30.

West Rockford brought a halt to Freeport's winning ways by handing the Spudichmen a 46 to 37 loss. Then LaSalle-Peru, Big 8 frosh-soph champions, mowed down the Junior Pretzels 53 to 34.

Ending the regular season on a victorious note, Freeport's underclass five subdued Sycamore 42 to 33.

Al Stewart, coming within four points of being the conference top frosh-soph scorer, placed third with 104 points.

440 or bust!

Encountering some of the state's toughest competition week after week, Freeport High's '49 track squad came through with a successful campaign in their cinder show.

Starting strongly, the Pretzels defeated a group of the area's smaller schools. After competing in the West Madison Relays, Freeport gained an impressive victory over East Rockford. Our thinclads racked up eight first places as they crushed the Rabs $66\frac{1}{2}$ to $46\frac{1}{2}$. DeWayne Harbach tossed the shot for the best competitive distance of the year with a heave of 43 feet 10 inches.

Duane Boos and Lloyd Smith scored victories as Freeport placed fourth in the Clinton Gateway Classic.

Track

Row 1: T. Williams, D. Boos, R. Carr, J. Parson, D. Morris, J. Rockow, M. Kasten (on ground), L. Clouser, D. Banter, D. Mellom
 Row 2: S. Altenbern, C. Eklund, M. Theviot, D. Mahlke, D. Randolph, D. Smith, D. Cotherman, H. Weber
 Row 3: H. Fritz, D. Hart, G. Studebaker, D. Shouer, L. Spratler, J. Lawbaugh, J. Hartman
 Row 4: K. Fissell, R. Glasser, D. McGill, B. Spahn, T. Hirtle, V. Bluemel, D. Burright

Then a standout Sterling Club topped the Pretz 71 to 42, and West Rockford's Warriors shaded Freeport 61 to 52.

At the East Rockford Relays, Coach Howard Weber's charges finished 5th in a perennially strong field of sixteen schools. Clocked at 3:36.1, the mile relay team (Studebaker, Thev-iot, Lawbaugh, and Boos) clipped thirteen seconds off the F.H.S. record.

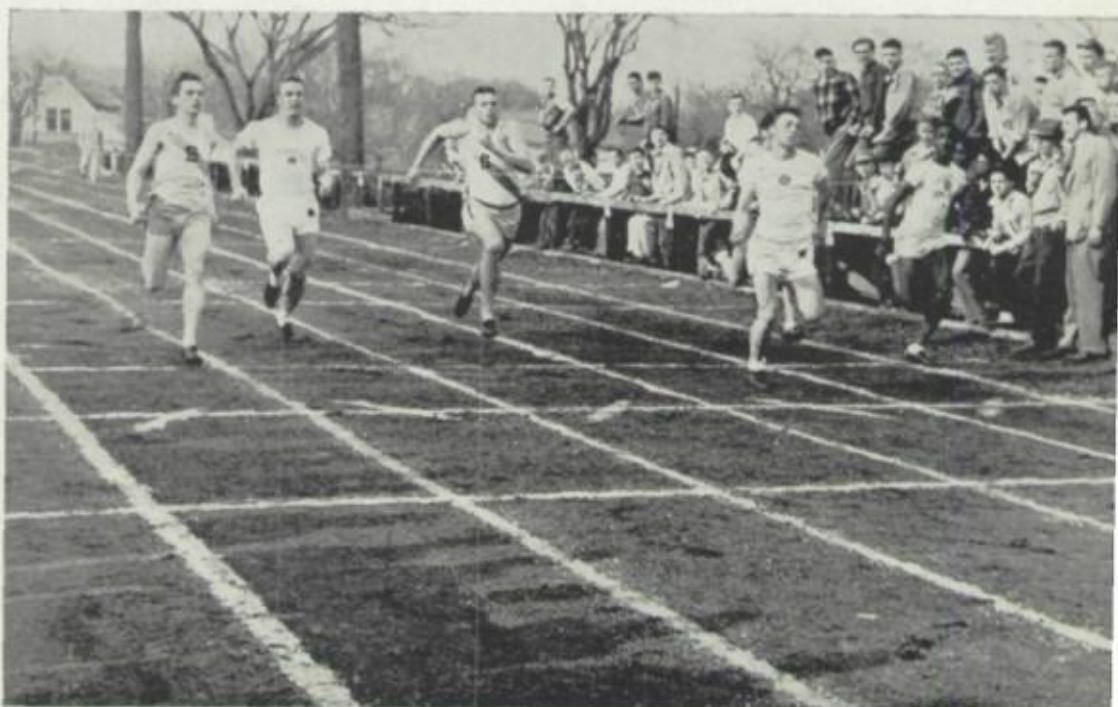

Lloyd Smith won both hurdle races and broke the Dubuque field record of streaking over the highs in 15.3 at the Dubuque triangular. John Lawbaugh won the 880-yard run.

The district meet was a heartbreaker for Freeport, as they missed the title by the slim margin of a half-point. It was the closest finish in district history; the first five teams were but 4 points apart. Outstanding performances by Boos, Lloyd Smith, and Stan Altenbern qualified them for the State Meet.

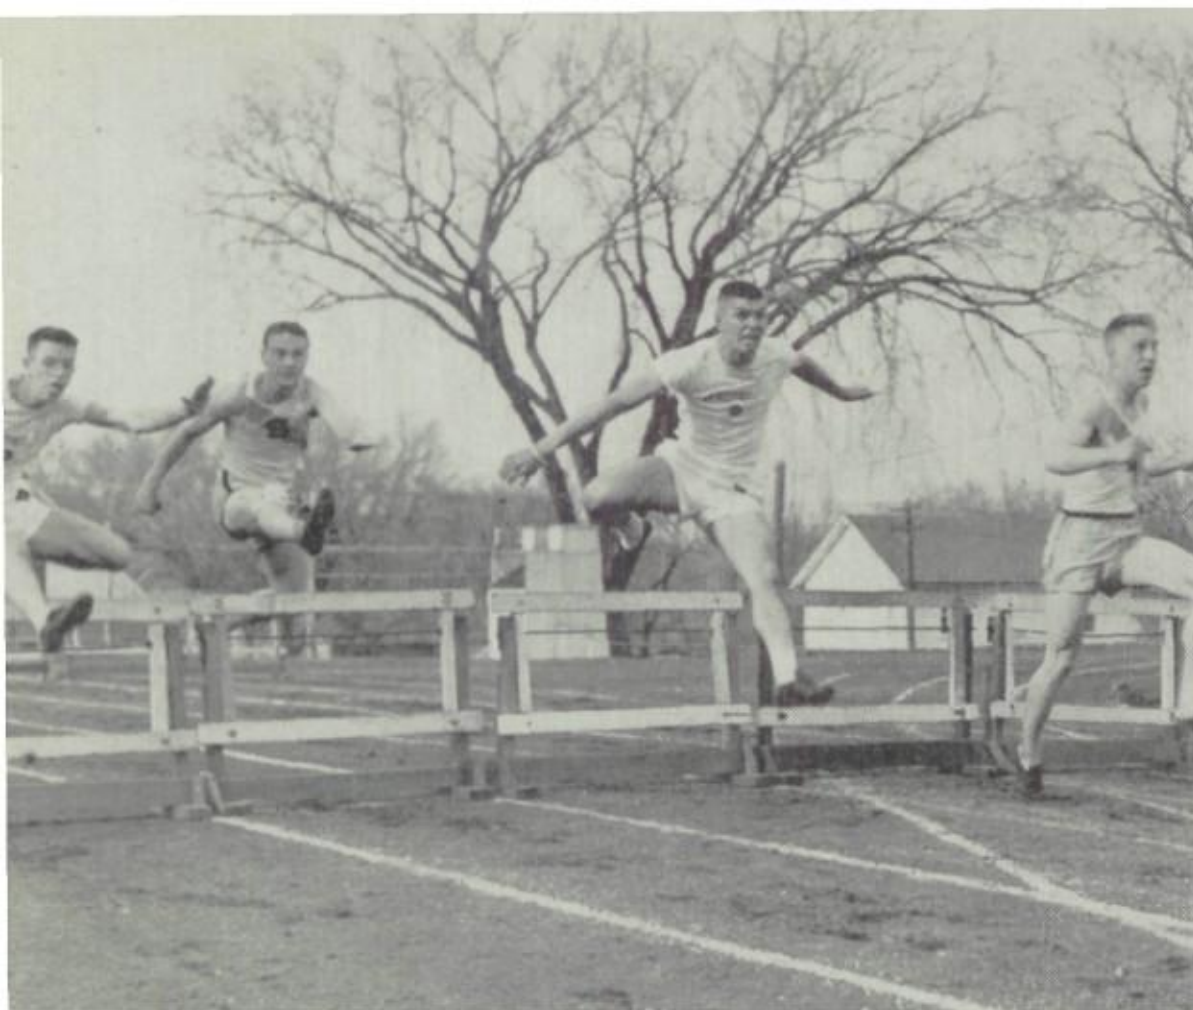

At Champaign Lloyd Smith made the low hurdles semi-finals and Altenbern high-jumped 5 feet 8 inches. Duane Boos went on to the final heats, where he placed fifth among Illinois' best quarter-milers.

Beloit's powerhouse, undefeated in dual meets all year, held the upper hand in their tilt with the Pretzels. Boos turned in a stand-out performance in his 440-yard run duel with Shelby Bandy, the Wisconsin quarter-mile champion. Boos nipped Bandy at the tape in 51.1, thus breaking the Freeport High record. Lloyd Smith, Jerry Bangasser and Bill Spahn finished in that order as F.H.S. swept the low hurdles. Lloyd finished the heat in 22.9, establishing another school record.

The Big 8 meet at Elgin saw Smitty take top honors in both the high and low hurdles as Freeport placed fifth with 21 9/20 points.

Why, there's Harry Kinert!

 And there he is again!

The season's finale was the 9th Annual Pentathlon, initiated by Coach Howard Weber in 1940 to determine the best all-round performer. All forty-five team members were eligible to compete. The five events are the half-mile, shot put, high and broad jump, and the 100-yard dash. Duane Boos won a total of 2,816½ points and received the gold medal award. Bill Spahn had 2,782 points to receive a bronze award.

The next ten places included: John Lawbaugh, 2399; Jim Hartman, 2234; Jerry Bangasser, 2204; Hod Fritz, 2143; Dick McGill, 2023; Dewey Smith, 2019; Jim Rockow, 1030; DeWayne Harbach, 1039; Dick Shouer, 1776½; and Charles Bonvillain, 1619.

The gold medal winner proved his ability as he ran his way to victory. Duane broke his own quarter-mile record in almost every race. Coach Weber best expressed it when he said, "It will in all probability be another twenty years before anyone even challenges Duane's 440-yard run time of 51.1." He was elected team captain by the squad members.

At the top of the heap in the matter of points scored was Lloyd Smith, one of Freeport High's all-time hurdle greats, who accumulated a total of 977½ points. Lloyd amassed more hurdle points than anyone else in the school's history. His hustle and determination were an inspiration to the team. Herb Hodges, Beloit College track mentor who led his team to the conference title, awarded Lloyd Smith the Bill Young Memorial trophy at the annual track banquet.

Other consistent scorers were: Boos, 87½; Altenbern, 49½; Lawbaugh, 31; and DeWayne Harbach, 24 points. The remaining varsity lettermen included Jerry Bangasser, Dewey Smith, Jim Hartman, Bill Spahn, Merrill Theviot, and Jerry Studebaker. Harlan Fritz and Charles Bonvillain won frosh-soph letters and showed promise to be good material for the '50 season.

The team managers were Martin Kast-en and Darrell Mellom.

Here are the remaining best competitive marks for the year:

Lloyd Smith, 100-yard dash, 10.5 sec.

John Lawbaugh, 880-yard run, 2 min. 7.4 sec.

Duane Boos, 220-yard run, 23.5 sec.

Merrill Theviot, mile, 4 min. 53.3 sec.

Jim Hartman, pole vault, 10 ft., 3 in.

Stan Altenbern, Tom Williams, high jump, 5 ft. 8¼ in.

Dick McGill, broad jump, 19 ft., 11 in.

DeWayne Harbach, discus throw, 118.5 ft.

Bolstered by the return of seven lettermen, Freeport High's 1949 baseball team had the experience needed to come through with a successful season.

The Pretzels rebounded from their opening game loss to East Rockford to hand Winslow a 2 to 0 whitewashing, Jim Hill pitching a neat two-hitter. Gary Sarles slammed a home run for Freeport's first tally.

Hill scattered five hits as St. Thomas of Rockford was handed a 9 to 4 defeat.

After dropping close decisions to West Rockford and Barrington, Coach Joe Spudich's nine moved back on the victory trail, edging Belvidere in a 1 to 0 pitchers' duel, behind the brilliant four-hit throwing of Hill. John Adams crossed the plate for the game's lone run.

Freeport High's first attempt at night baseball proved disastrous as LaSalle-Peru blanked the Pretz 10 to 0.

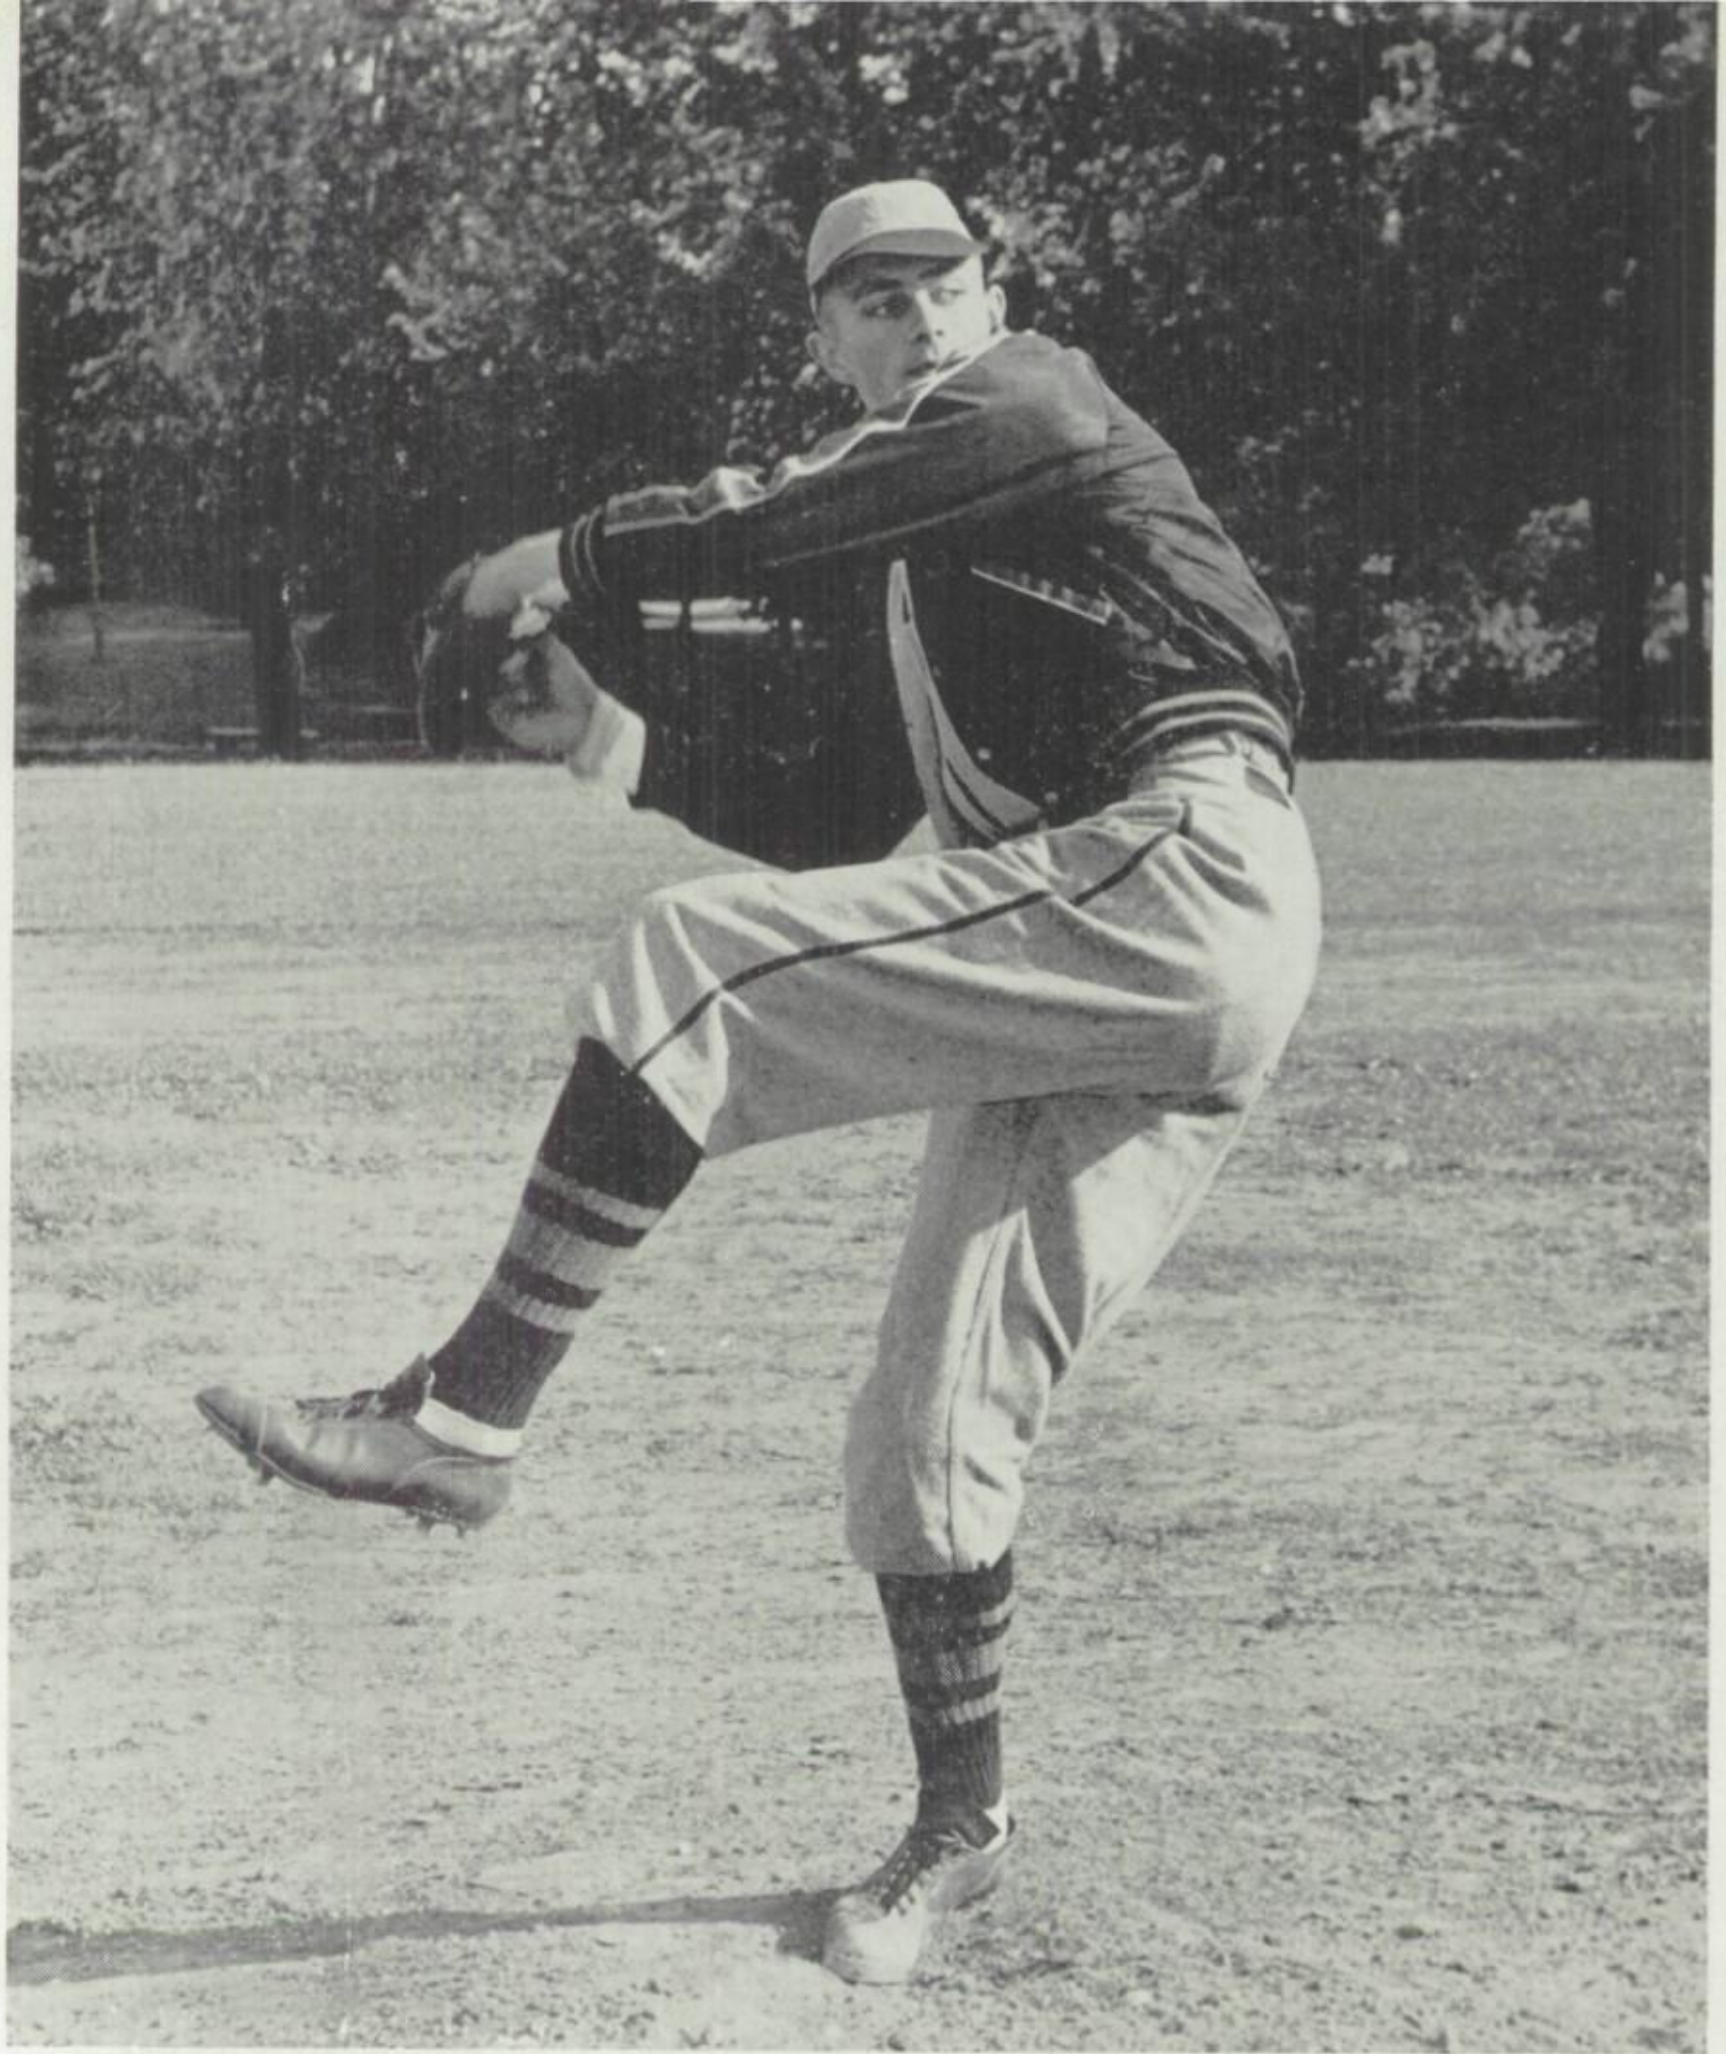

Gaining revenge for an early season defeat, St. Thomas topped the Spudichmen 9 to 1.

Returning to their winning ways, Freeport nipped a highly-regarded Dundee nine 5 to 4. The hard-hitting Cardinals tried to enact a comeback in the last inning. However, winning pitcher Ronnie Krueger struck out the side to end the threat. John Adams led the winners at bat with three hits, while Sarles clouted a triple for the longest blow of the day.

The Wind-up

Playing in the first round of the sub-district tournament, the Pretzels subdued Orangeville 9 to 5, setting the stage for the long-awaited Freeport-Aquin clash. Ben Dorsey's single touched off a mammoth run rally in the second inning. Hill fanned 14, giving up eight hits.

Baseball

In one of the best fielding games of the year, Aquin's Bulldogs eliminated Joe Spudich's boys from further tournament play 3 to 1. Tom Kienle's Aquinites made four hits in the first and second innings to account for all three runs.

One of the campaign's most exciting games had the Pretzels rallying in the last inning to down East Rockford 11 to 10 for the season's finale. Coach Spudich's club did it the hard way, coming up from 10 runs behind. Trailing 10 to 0 at the end of three and one-half innings, Freeport staged a six-run uprising in the last of the fourth, and two runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings, knotting the score at 10 all. Then Hill won his own game in the last of the seventh by sending a line drive to left field, bringing Joe Hannah in from third base.

By vote of the squad members, Gary Sarles was elected captain of the 1950 team.

Seasoned

Golf

The golf squad, under the able coaching of Boyd "Pappy" Garns, enjoyed a successful season. Even though they did not win a majority of their contests, they scored many points throughout the season, which was an improvement over the past several years.

Coach Garns greeted twenty-three prospective candidates, but by the time the first match rolled around, this number was reduced almost to half.

Throughout the season, the Pretzel linksmen engaged in eight ten-man meets, winning but one. Their lone victory came at the expense of a determined Sterling squad, in which every Pretz scored points. Because of lack of funds, the Freeport team did not participate in either the district or the Big 8 golf meets.

Freeport was hampered also by a lack of returning lettermen; Coach Garns was forced to mold a squad from an entirely new group of boys. At the spring athletic assembly, Garns awarded letters to the following boys: Rex Zier, Jerry Garns, Paul Lindfors, Red Paulson, Don MacKenzie, Eldon Martyn, and Doug Smith.

Early in the 1950 campaign Paul Lindfors joined the charmed circle of Pretzel linksmen who carded a hole in one.

Brilliant play in the conference meet along with twin victories over West Rockford highlighted the '49 net campaign. Sweeping all seven matches, F.H.S.'s tennis team handed Dixon a 7 to 0 shut-out for the Pretzel's initial win of the season.

Coach "Teddy" Clarno's raquetteers recovered from a loss to highly-rated Monroe, topping Sterling 5 to 2. Winning seven out of ten singles and two of three doubles, the Pretz trimmed West Rockford's Warriors 9 to 4. Freeport netmen placed fifth, competing in the district. Dixon and West Rockford fell for the second time as Clarno's crew repeated earlier triumphs.

Then, smarting from a loss to district champion E-Rabs, Freeport showed their best form of the season to nip a strong Beloit club 4 to 3.

Tennis

Reaching their peak at Aurora, the boys came within one match of the Big 8 championship. The entire team qualified for the semi-finals. Freeport's doubles combination, Bob Popp and Daryl Burns, remained undefeated until the last match. East Rockford won the Conference title with seven points, followed closely by Freeport with six.

Letters were awarded to Bob Popp, Dave Womelsdorf, Bill Brokhausen, Daryl Burns, Hal Horstmeyer, and Gene Schmitt.

Although still playing a minor role in the F.H.S. athletic program, intramural sports have made very promising progress during the past year. Activities began with the opening of school in the fall.

Intramural

Sports included in the autumn program were basketball, baseball, touch football, volleyball, and ping-pong. Between thirty and forty boys attended these sessions held after school under the direction of C. C. Clarno.

Late in November, when the basketball squads began to use the gym after school, intramural was forced into the background. Then Athletic Director Merritt Allen organized a noon-hour basketball schedule which included approximately sixteen teams, eight in the junior-senior league, and eight in the frosh-soph loop. Team membership was open to anyone desiring to play basketball during the sixth period.

The teams were power-packed. In fact, it was decided that touchdowns would have been a more appropriate medium of scoring than baskets, especially for the Fogel Five and Midthun Maulers.

Despite this fact, the "rough and ready" league leaders were occasionally toppled by smaller, sharpshooting outfits. At the end of the regular season's play, champions were crowned in each of the two divisions.

Boys' gym classes featured different sports throughout the year according to the weather. In the fall, "Allen's athletes" took to the grid-iron. Here, Freeport's All-American . . . boys ran, blocked, and tackled through forty minutes of pigskin patterns twice a week.

Boys'

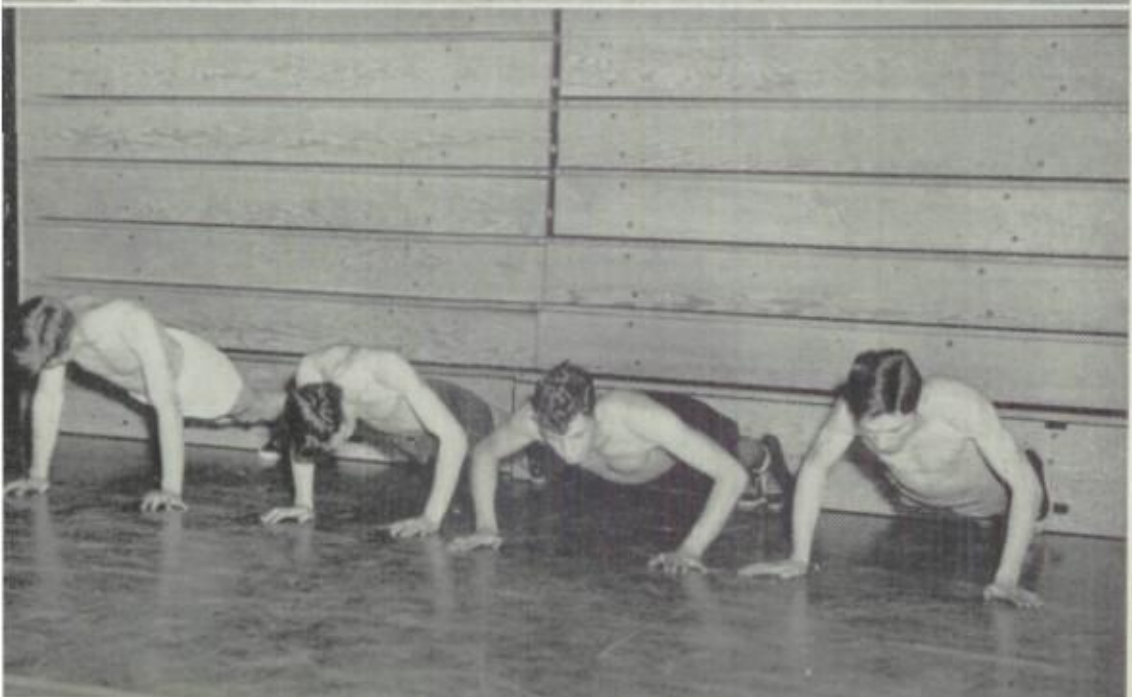

When snow began to fall, they converted to boxing and wrestling. Two types of Indian wrestling and regular "fall flat on the mat" variety gave the Allenmen those muscles you lo-o-ve to touch. Boxing, featuring bouts between Gary "Killer" Briggs and Stanley "Mouse Man" Hack, brought hidden talents to shine(r).

During the too-cold-to-go-out-in-our-underwear-but-not-freezing weather, Instructors Kinert and Allen brought out the nets for the old fist-bruising sport of volleyball.

Came the long, hard winter, all would-be Blooper Boys took to the courts. Twice a week they chose sides and, armed to the hilt with elbows and class rings, Freeport's Sweet Four-Hundred scrimmaged feverishly for forty minutes, turning in a shooting average of .001. A marked improvement was noted on free-throw percentages this year as compared to last year's average. The hoopsters made an enviable .456 from the free-throw line.

Sports

Those boys who went on the theory that "You too can have a muscle," lifted the 100-pound weights . . . and then recuperated in the hospital reading, "Ode to an African Violet."

Then, it happens every spring! As in the big leagues and the sand lots, April found the Freeport Mud Turtles crowding the outfields. And hundreds of pitchers lined up on the mound to throw fast balls, curve balls, inside-outside balls, screwballs, and cue-balls.

Prospects for next year's yo-yo team are shrewd!

F.H.S. Splashettes

From one seahorse to another

The average F. H. S. girl is accomplished at wielding a bat, racquet, ball, or her feet . . . in sports, that is . . . to gain the advantage in such popular pastimes as baseball, badminton, basketball or soccer.

The latest game introduced to F.H.S. is field hockey. Though restricted to junior and senior girls, it's already an autumn favorite.

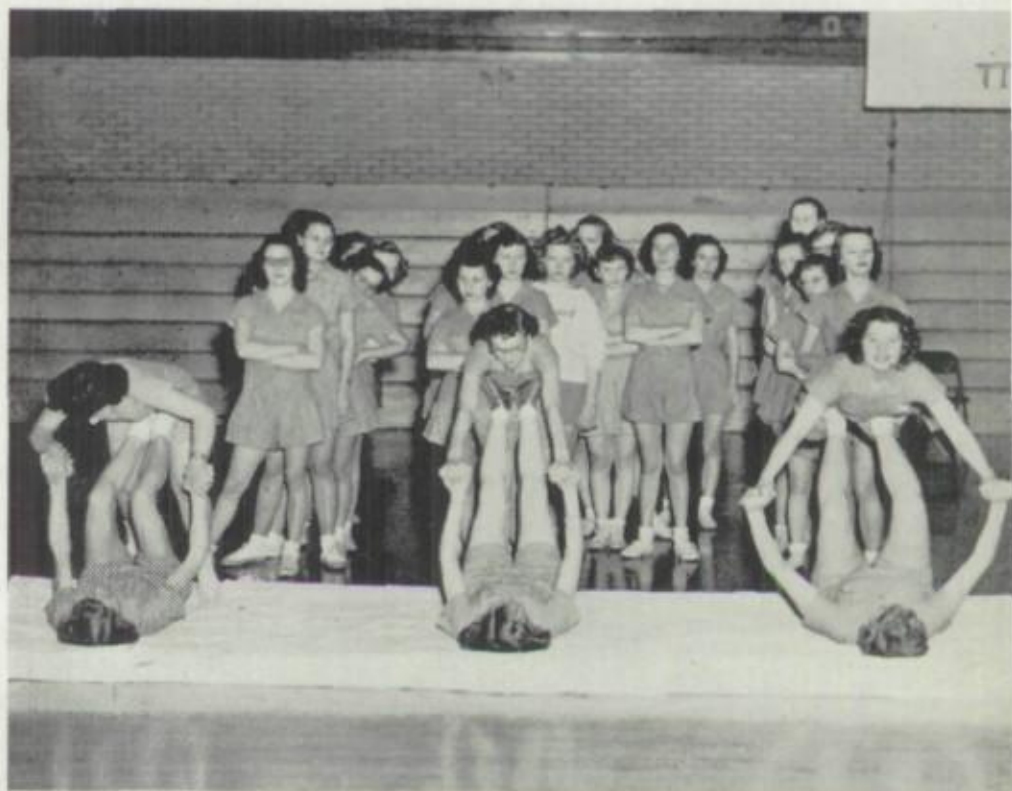

Girls in gym learned to dance gracefully in both square dances and ballroom steps. They were also taught to stand and walk correctly. There were milder games . . . ping-pong, shuffle board, and darts . . . for the girls who are not so ambitious.

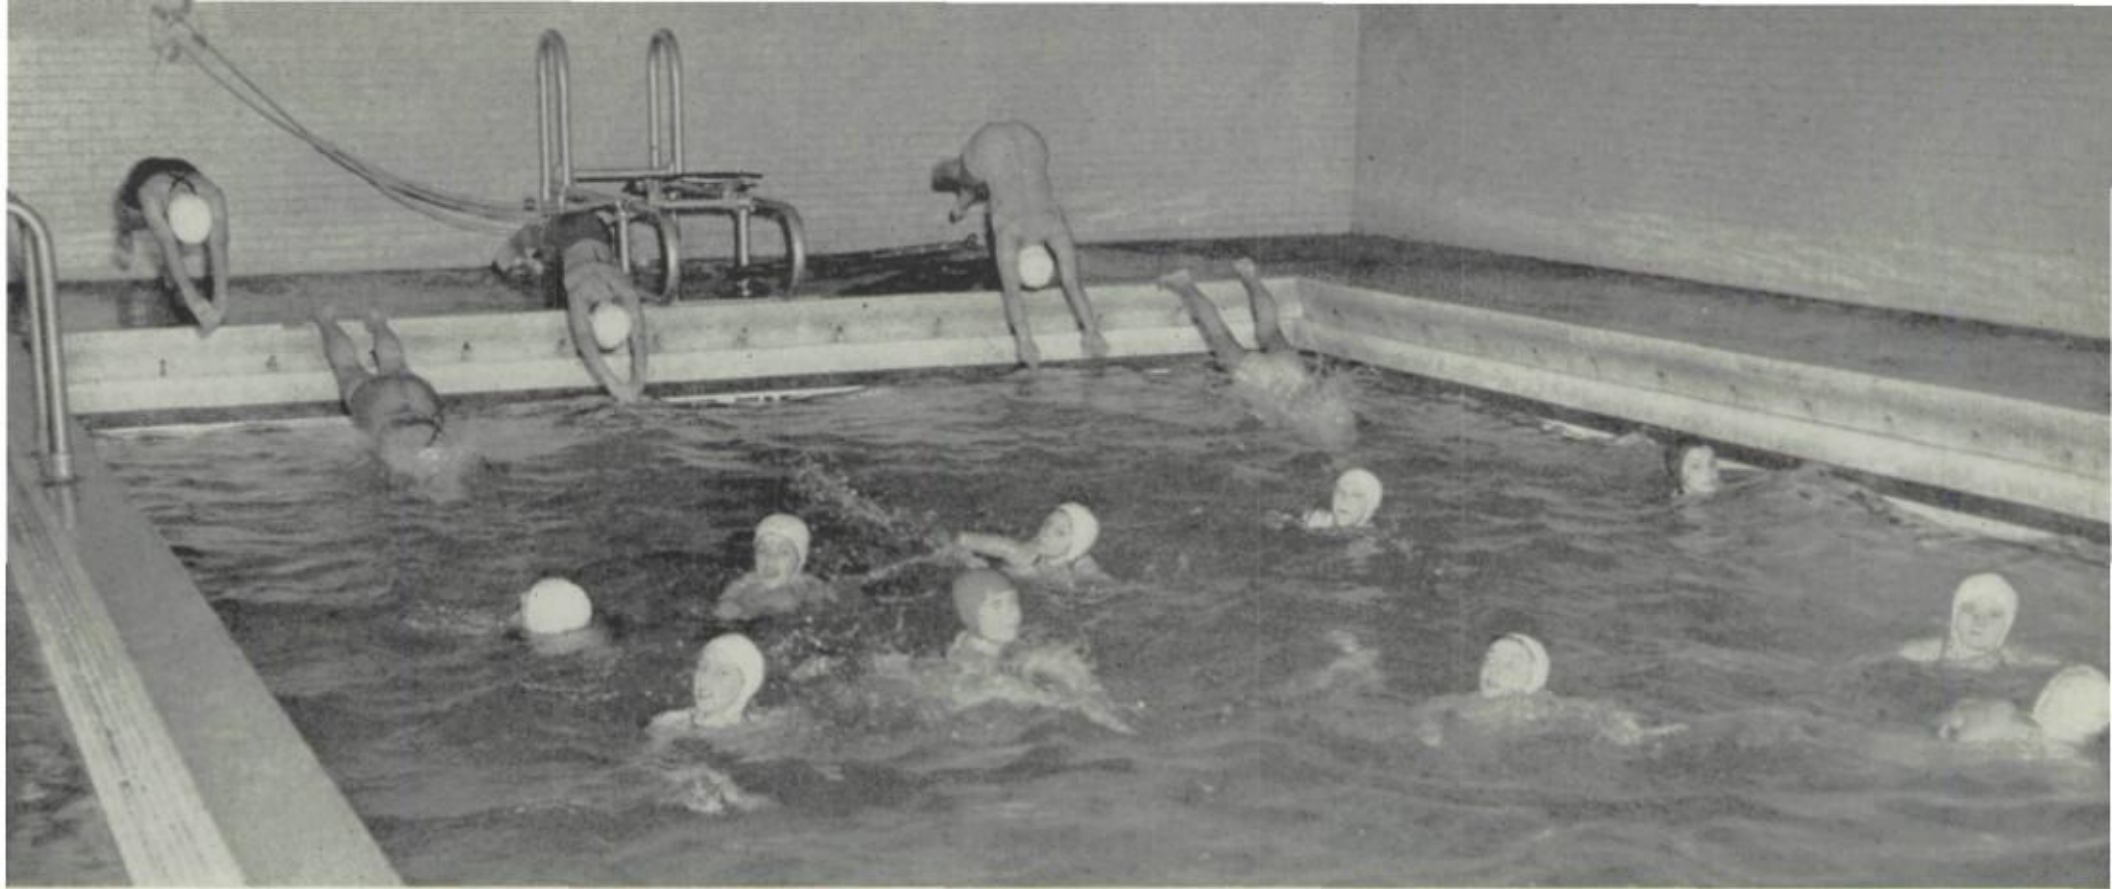

The girls set a precedent this year by playing their own intramural basketball games at noon. Four teams, each made up of girls from one class, were formed. In a Round Robin tourney the teams came out with these results: the seniors won over each underclassman team, the juniors beat the frosh and soph squads, and the sophs, overcome by a surprising frosh team, yielded all three of their games.

In the spring, preliminary badminton matches were played, with G.A.A. sponsoring the annual play-off assembly.

Dear Joan,

P.S. I wrote you a letter with invisible ink, hope you can read it
Bonnie Amagosa

Dear Joanie,
Hey, a long time ago you promised to tell me "what happened" at Bolo! Don't forget to do it some time!
Which Bonnie is it for sure now?
Tell me all about "Orchestra imitation" - some time! Bet you had too fun!! Love
Con Myers

P.S. - I won't have Bessie for Latin next year. You are my new teacher! O.K.!

Good Luck Joanne
Also good luck for Ronnie and you. I hope you have fun together tonight. Your dear pal.
